

About me

I am a Sydney-based Sound Recordist with a keen ear for detail and a genuine passion for what I do.

With over a decade of experience both locally and internationally, I've had incredible opportunities to collaborate with major networks, production houses, creative agencies and corporates to produce an array of renowned TV shows, feature films and captivating digital content.

If you're seeking a friendly and professional sound recordist who can consistently deliver audio excellence, and add depth and dimension to every project, look no further.
